

FOSS ATTACKS THE TARIFF

House Hears New Bay State Congressman

THE PEOPLE ARE BUNCOED

Urges Revision at a New Extra Session.
Favors the Income Tax as a Means of Raising Revenue.

Washington, May 21.—Representative Eugene N. Foss, the newly elected Democratic representative from Massachusetts, a former Republican and a leading manufacturer, yesterday signified his beginning of active participation in the House with a sensational radical attack upon the Payne-Albright tariff. He denounced the Republican policy of protection as an unqualified evil, flayed the Republican leaders, declared the recent revision of the tariff to be a delirious game from start to finish, pronounced in favor of reciprocity and demanded an "extra session of a new Congress" at the earliest opportunity, to revise the tariff. "The people are indeed demanding protection," said Mr. Foss, "but the protection they are demanding is protection from the Payne-Albright tariff."

The speaker announced himself as "favoring the creation of a tariff commission, but he wanted the commission composed of non-partisan men, whose report would be made direct to Congress, rather than to the president. Referring to the provision in the pending sundry civil appropriation bill for an appropriation of $250,000 for a tariff commission to report to the president, he said: "Naturally, it looks a little strange to some of us after all this long delay—after the people have themselves discovered the worst evils of our tariff system, which such a commission could have exposed years ago—that it is now brought forward at this late hour. They evidently have in mind the panicky feeling that prevails for instance, the 'land-past' section of this very chamber, as well as of the other chamber, and the Republican machine the country over. It cannot be denied that the people have, rightly or wrongly, come to regard this whole 'revision' scheme of the Republican party leaders, as planned in the last national campaign and as promulgated in their platform, and as finally foisted in the special tariff session of Congress as an intentional and deliberate bunco game from start to finish."

Mr. Foss urged reciprocity with foreign nations as the proper middle ground between the protective tariff and free trade. He recounted how Republican leaders, such as John Hay and Nelson Dingley, Jr., endeavored to obtain reciprocity with Canada and how "McKibben, almost with his dying breath, affirmed reciprocity as the ruling keynote of his prospective second term. We recall," said he, "how the nefarious 'stand-pat' influence in the Republican party by all sorts of underhand means succeeded in defeating all these treaties, nullifying all this effort and treacherously betraying and assassinating reciprocity in its own hours." The stand-pat hierarchy sowed the wind and we are all reaping the whirlwind. Reciprocity was sacrificed to self-interest and mercenary influences by the politicians against the people's interests, prostituted by them to the purpose of hoodwinking the public, just as now recently they have prostituted 'revision'."

HAVENS FAVORS TARIFF BOARD.

New Congressman from New York Makes First Speech in the House.
Washington, May 21.—Representative Havens, the newly elected Democratic member from the Rochester, N. Y., district, made his maiden speech in the House yesterday, during the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. For the most part his speech was directed on the Republican party and the character of the revision of schedules at the special session. Referring to the question of the proposed appropriation of $250,000 to enable the tariff commission to make a report to the president, to which most of the Democrats of the House are opposed, Mr. Havens stated that he intended to vote for it, because he was in favor of the commission principle.

Mr. Havens said he did not seek a political career and could not afford to follow one, thus indicating he would not be a candidate for re-election. "There is no longer any political boss to defeat in that district," said Mr. Havens, "or, if there is, he will not make the mistake of running for Congress again." He referred to his defeat of George W. Aldrich.

VERMONT JUMPER

NEAR THE RECORD

Guterson Was Just Two Inches Shy of Mark in Intercollegiate Games in Boston Yesterday.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—Dartmouth's five year clutch on the New England inter-collegiate athletic championship was not seriously threatened in the preliminary events of the annual meeting held on Technology field in Brookline yesterday. The Green team came off the field with 17 men still in the running, almost twice as many as any of the 13 other colleges. Williams qualified nine men and Bowdoin and Wesleyan eight each. Amherst and Massachusetts Institute of Technology made poor exhibitions, placing only five men each while Brown, university of Maine and Colby placed three men apiece for today. Worcester Polytechnic institute, another new member of the association, and the university of Vermont qualified two men each, leaving one apiece for Holy Cross and Tufts.

The trial events yesterday failed to uncover any new star in the athletic armament, although Guterson of Vermont, came within a couple of inches of the broad jump record, and when the pole vaulting stopped at 11 feet, Holdman of Dartmouth was flying over the bar like a bird and seemed capable of at least a foot more.

The track events were all run in slow times, and the failure of Sherman of Dartmouth to qualify in the four hundred dash rather shocked the Dartmouth team for a few minutes. Dartmouth placed men in every event except the high hurdles, getting three men into the hammer-throw and two each into the half mile run, the shot put, high and broad jumps and the pole-vault.

Williams proved unexpectedly strong in the quarter mile, qualifying three men. Bowdoin and Wesleyan brought a well balanced team, the former getting places in seven of the eleven events, while the latter had men in six of them, mostly in the track events.

After Kibbourne's disqualification, Amherst gave up all hopes of winning another leg this year in the championship, although the winners of the purple and white still have three victories to their credit. Technology also was a disappointment, especially in the field events, although their track men did fairly well.

Price of New York, the cotton king, indicated his opposition to the cotton leak scandal of 1908, cannot be prosecuted in the District of Columbia, according to a ruling of the supreme court of the district here yesterday. GOV. ROLLINS FINED $2,000

Former Chief Executive of New Hampshire

PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE

Ex-Governor Pays the Fine and Then Goes to Customs House and Pays $1,500 in Additional Duties.

New York, May 21.—Frank West Rollins, former governor of New Hampshire, made his promised statement yesterday, in answer to the charges of conspiracy to defraud the government of customs dues brought against him by custom inspectors last Friday. It took the form of a plea of guilty, and Judge Hand, sitting in the United States district court, construed it as an admission that Mr. Rollins had violated the law, "knowingly, wilfully and maliciously," and fined him $2,000. The law provides a maximum penalty of two years in prison, a fine of $5,000 or both.

The former governor took a big roll of bills from his pocket and paid his fine without a comment. Mr. Rollins' lawyer argued for him that, owing to his wife's illness, he had been worried and preoccupied, and that when the customs agents failed to furnish him with the blue form that contains the law with regard to purchases abroad, he had made a natural error of omission. District Attorney Wise contended that Mr. Rollins had declared one dutiable article, and insisted further that he had been abroad before and was familiar with the law. Moreover, an opportunity to make a supplementary declaration had been given him, of which he declined to avail himself.

The total value of the articles which the former governor neglected to declare is given as $4,731. The original complaint named Mrs. Rollins, his wife, and their son, Douglas, as parties to the conspiracy, but the grand jury yesterday handed down but one indictment, naming only the former governor. As soon as Mr. Rollins learned of it, he promptly entered his plea, and when he had paid his fine, visited the customs house, where it is said he paid an additional $1,500 in duties, on the understanding that further proceedings against his family be dropped.

NONE WILFULLY KILLED.

Former Head of Steel Trust Hospital Replies to Labor Leader's Charge.

Bethlehem, Pa., May 21.—"It is an awful accusation and makes Mr. Holder liable to prosecution at my hands," said Dr. R. A. Dinan, a practicing physician of this place who was formerly superintendent of the Bethlehem Steel company hospital, in answer to the charge of A. E. Holder, legislative agent of the American Federation of Labor, before the Senate committee at Washington that the steel manufacturing concerns in Pennsylvania are "veritable slaughter houses."

"It is absolutely untrue that men injured in the steel works were wilfully killed in the hospital conducted by the Bethlehem Steel company to prevent them becoming cripples and thereby charges on the company," continued Dr. Dinan. The hospital referred to by Mr. Holder has been abandoned nearly a year. It was in operation only about one year and a half and Mr. Dinan was in charge of it nearly all of that time. The numerous injuries occurred to workmen and the fact that St. Luke's hospital was several miles away, made it inadvisable to establish an emergency hospital. Dr. Dinan was placed in charge and had several thousand cases, ranging from minor injuries to those more serious. The mortality rate was about 7 per cent. The steel company officials refuse to discuss Mr. Holder's charges.

Lytle was convicted in February at Tupelo, Miss., on the charge of bigamy. Burke, who married him in December, according to the Tupelo sheriff, Lytle has at least six wives scattered throughout the United States. At Camden, a warrant is held on the evidence of Estella Shinn, who claims to have married Lytle 26 years ago, and also Mattie L. Lamont, who says she became Mrs. Lytle on June 9, 1909. On Saturday in Monroe, Col., Mrs. Anna D. Brown Lytle got a divorce on the ground of bigamy. She was the woman whom Lytle had left behind him in Cleveland.

SUGAR FRAUD STORY FROM THE INSIDE

Another Employee of the Trust Appears as Witness and Helps Establish Trail of Fraud to Main Office.

New York, May 21.—Henry H. Falkenstein, formerly a checker employed by the American Sugar Refining company, was the chief witness called by the government yesterday in the trial of Charles H. Belke, secretary-treasurer of the company, who, with five subordinates, is charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by underweighing imports of sugar. Through this witness the prosecution brought out that records of the weights taken on the docks—so many of which are alleged to have been fraudulent, were sent to the main office of the sugar trust in Wall street, to the office of James F. Bendoric, one-time cashier, and to the former refinery superintendent, Ernest F. Gerbracht, both of whom are defendants.

On the strength of this, the government hopes to show that Belke, as an executive of the company, must have been cognizant of the frauds. The defense contends that he was ignorant of the alleged crookedness and that Bendoric and Gerbracht also were not in touch with conditions at the docks.

MIGHTY CHURCH PROTEST

Proposed in Opposition to the Big Fight in California.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 21.—The power of the entire Presbyterian church of the United States may be invoked by the church in California to assist in the effort to prevent the Jeffries-Johnson fight, following an address by the Rev. James M. Barclay of Detroit, retiring moderator of the Presbyterian assembly, at the opening meeting of the church gathering here.

"It is the money lust that promotes prize fighting, with its survival of the savagery that butchered a gladiator to make a Roman holiday," was the declaration of Dr. Barclay. "There is no law in California under which we can make legal opposition to the prizefight," said a California minister. "We must depend on the power of public opinion, and we shall attempt to have this great assembly at least go on record as seconding the efforts of ministers of every faith in California to prevent the fight being held in our state."

SCHOONER IN DISTRESS.

The Sarah and Lucy, Boston for New York, Signals for Assistance.

New York, May 21.—The American schooner Sarah and Lucy of New York, bound for this port from Boston, while off Pollock Rip lightship yesterday, signaled for immediate assistance, reporting that she was leaking badly and the water was gaining on the pumps. The revenue cutter Acushnet has gone to aid the schooner.

News of the schooner's predicament came in a wireless via Siasconnet, Mass., from Pollock Rip lightship off the coast of Massachusetts, north of Martha's Vineyard. The Sarah and Lucy has a crew of seven men and left Boston on May 14. She is believed to be loaded with stone, the weight of which probably started the schooner's seams. The schooner is owned by O. A. Gilbert of Mystic, Conn.

CORPORATIONS SLOW PAYING.

Few of Big Ones Have Turned In Their Federal Tax.

New York, May 21.—Few, if any, of the large corporations have as yet paid their tax assessment under the new federal tax law. They are waiting until the last few days of June, near the expiration of the time limit, not only to have the use of the money as long as possible, but in the hope that a decision from the United States supreme court may relieve them from paying the tax at all. Many of the corporation lawyers say that it is unlikely that the supreme court will hand down its decision before the summer vacation begins, in which case the corporations subject to the tax will not know whether the law is to stand until late in the fall.

Already many of the smaller corporations have sent their checks to Collector of Internal Revenue Anderson of the second district, accompanied by a formal protest against the payment of the tax. The large corporations have also been instructed by their lawyers to pay the tax assessment under protest. By paying under protest the corporations will protect their legal rights, so the lawyers say. Federal officials, however, say that the payment under formal protest is unnecessary, because in the event of the corporation tax being declared unconstitutional the government would refund all money paid under the law, regardless of protests or the absence of protests.

Among the corporations which are waiting until the last few days of the time allowed by law to pay assessments are the United States Steel corporation, the American Tobacco company, the American Sugar Refining company, the Standard Oil company, and, in fact, almost all of the so-called trusts which have their executive offices in this city. The largest certified check received by the collector of internal revenue in the second district was for $1000.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT DELAYED.

No Action on Senator Owen's Bill Is Expected During Present Session.

Washington, May 21.—There seems to be little likelihood that Congress will take any action at the present session on the Owen bill to create an additional executive department to be known as the department of health. The hearings on the bill were concluded Thursday night and no meeting has been called for the purpose of making a report. The time Thursday night was occupied entirely by the opposition to the measure. The opponents contended that the purpose of the bill was to form a "doctor's trust." It is said that both the proponents and opponents are content with having inaugurated an "educational movement" preparatory to carrying on campaigns during the summer and resuming next winter before Congress.

Albany, May 21.—The Senate has passed the Agnew bill prohibiting the publication of betting odds and the Perkins bills relative to keeping betting and gaming establishments. The bills are two of a series of four designed to prohibit bookmaking. They now go to the assembly rules committee.
